UDLAP Visiting Faculty (various fields):
Call for Applications

Universidad de las Américas Puebla (UDLAP) in Mexico is seeking applications for Visiting Faculty, for the Spring and Fall terms of 2023.

At UDLAP the Spring semester at undergraduate level begins in January, and the Fall semester in August, and each one lasts 16 weeks of lectures plus 2 weeks for final examinations. Graduate courses are taught in trimesters (10-week periods), starting January, April, June, July and October. The deadline for applications for each term is March 15 for the Fall terms, and August 15 for the Spring terms.

About UDLAP:

Universidad de las Américas Puebla is a top Private University in Mexico which offers quality study programs of Academic Excellence through its faculty. We are a leading Latin American research-intensive university, which is accredited in the USA by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools - Commission on Colleges, and awarded with 5 stars by QS. Our beautiful campus is located in the historic and magic town of Cholula, a small, safe, and picturesque town near the city of Puebla, which is one of the largest cities in Mexico.

Profile of Visiting Faculty:

As part of our internationalization strategy, we are looking for young academics who are willing to spend one term with us teaching and doing research. We are searching for enthusiastic academics, including recent Ph.D. graduates and ABDs. We invite applicants from world-leading universities to apply, especially those who are looking to expand their teaching experience and are open to explore research opportunities. Eligible candidates shall be fluent in English (fluency in Spanish is not required, as teaching may be done in English).

The candidates' terminal degree should be in one of the following fields:

- Applied Mathematics
    - For teaching (in the School of Business and Economics): Quantitative Market Research, Market Intelligence I, or Market Intelligence II.
    - For teaching (in the School of Sciences): Pattern Recognition, Data Visualization, or Selected Topic in Data Sciences.
- Economics
    - For teaching: Principles of Microeconomics or Principles of Macroeconomics.
- Management of Complex Systems
    - For teaching: Business Intelligence, Algorithms and Data Analysis, or Selected Topic in Management
- Political Sciences
    - For teaching: United States Society and State, Global Political Economy, or Public Policy
- Arts and Humanities
    - For teaching Digital Animation, Dance, Music, and Theater.

Duties of the Post:

- To join UDLAP for a full semester: 18-week academic term (onsite); or a trimester: 10-week academic term (online).
- Teach 1 or 2 courses (12 Credits) at undergraduate or graduate level, or 1 course (6 credits) at graduate level, according to the Academic Departments' needs.
- To be available to students for academic mentoring, where visiting scholars will be expected to advise students especially on topics such as international mobility, internships, and/or research.
- To be actively engaged in the academic life of the hosting department.
- Priority will be given to those open to engage in joint research projects that may lead to publications.

What we offer:

- An ideal academic opportunity to develop teaching skills in a research-intensive environment, which will prove valuable to applicants in their future search for a permanent position in their home countries or abroad.
- A salary of USD $4,000.00 per course (before tax).
- Please note that the participants must cover their travel, housing, meals, and other expenses including visa issuance costs and international health insurance.

How to apply:

To apply for one of the UDLAP Visiting Faculty positions, please submit the following:

- A Cover Letter (no more than 1 Letter/A4 page), including a short research and teaching philosophy statement, and briefly describing your motivation to apply for this position and the field to which you are applying.
- Your resume along with scanned proof of your academic degrees (diplomas or certificates, including transcripts).
- If available, a list of your research products (publications, chapters, books, etc.)
- Names of possible courses or topics that you are qualified to teach.
- Period or Term of interest to teach at UDLAP.

Please send all questions and applications to Mr. Enrique Silva (enrique.silva@udlap.mx) or Mr. Juan Carlos Ley carlos.ley@udlap.mx.
